

Dear Daniel,

I wish you a very HAPPY NEW YEAR. May this be the best one you have ever had.

What a year this has been! We were attacked, and the American response was that we should be 'tolerant' and respect the civil rights of our enemy.

We must agree with the President that "Islam is a very peaceful religion"(?) even while we were digging out the bodies of almost 3000 people in the World Trades Center who were all brutally murdered in the name of Islam, otherwise we will be considered bigots.

And now we must be tolerant when those cowards are attacking hospitals and declaring that they will destroy us all.

It was a year when religious leaders like Chuck Colson worked to help promote Islam in the public schools (teaching and recruiting our 7th graders), by using his resources, financed with Christian dollars, to discourage the news media from picking up on my story and calling my story a lie and libeling me. And other Christian leaders like Mr. Turpen of the Association of Christian Educators, International who helped Truth of Fiction try to say that my story was a lie and that all Christians were loony, and Charles Haynes of the Freedom.org. All of these whom receive oil money contributions. What traitors, selling out our country for their own gain and selling out their own religion. If they truly had a religion. Frankly, I think they are all counterfeits..frauds.

Then to see the same Chuck Colson in the process of raising several million dollars with the pretext of stopping Islamic recruitment in the prisons, while he is furthering it in the schools. This was something to witness.

And seeing how it is politically incorrect to say that the Muslims do NOT worship the same God as Christians and Jews and to see the furor this creates to say it, and where apologies are demanded. And to simply quote the violent passages in the Koran and suggesting that Mohammed was violent creates an outrage from Muslims calling those who say it, ignorant, intolerant and bigoted. and the politically correct go right along with their ravings.

This is the strangest approach to war I have ever experienced in my almost 70 years. And for Americans and others overseas to say we are immoral for wanting to "wage war" with Iraq, even Afghanistan when Osama was there, and that we should hold our peace and not wage war.....Aren't these paid misfits aware that the war has already been waged!? The war has already begun. We have been attacked, our people have been killed, with more attacks daily around the world, yet these peaceniks say we are wrong to fight or respond with military force..

One thing I do know for sure, those demonstrators, for the most part are paid to demonstrate. There are ads constantly in the San Francisco papers advertising for 'activists and demonstrators'. And do you know what they pay? $5.00 an hour!. So this is the sincerity of that anti-war fever.

Same thing as Colson and the rest who receive oil money and will further the Islamic cause for the oil barons to please the Arab oil lords who stand to live in unspeakable wealth as a result of selling out our country.

Yes, it's been a strange year. Fortunately, my story was proven totally with even more revealed as other writers picked up on it.

But you know...this New Years Eve, I sat down quietly in my living room and had a good shot of brandy. I think after all this time, I was entitled to one.

Thank you Daniel, for staying on top of this story, and how very much I appreciate you sending me your stories and other things you find. They are excellent.

I especially liked the one you did on Jihad, the last one. Puts it in the right perspective...oops...Islam is really 'a very peaceful religion.' What on earth was I thinking?

And according to them, yes it is peaceful...when everyone becomes a Muslim, they will then have peace..in other words, they will not be blown up or their throats slit if they declare Allah (NOT the same god as ours) to be the only true god. Then THAT person has peace.

Every Muslim who still calls himself Muslim and reads the Koran is ready to kill non muslims. If you are friends of a Muslim, here is what will happen, as a Muslim told a friend of his..."if I have to kill you, I will do it quickly so you will not suffer." Now THERE is a true friend.

God bless you Daniel, and again, thank you for standing with me as I broke the original story and then the struggle to get it out to the major media.

Fiat Voluntas Domini,
Rev.Austin Miles
